Short description

In 2020 Cassandra Han and Lorenzo Viti founded the production company Enrosadira Pictures to develop co-productions for feature films, documentaries and shorts shot in South Tyrol and in the rest of Europe.

The company is currently producing the documentary feature Endgame: The First Redoubt, written and presented by the acclaimed WWII British historian novelist James Holland, which is entirely set in South Tyrol.

Enrosadira also has an Italian feature film development: Italy First, written by Luca Vendruscolo and Simona Nobile, in co-production with Marco Alessi.
