Sella Pass

Description

Sella Pass is a high mountain pass at an elevation of 2,240 metres. Gardena, Pordoi and Campolongo Passes are the three other passes that comprise the Sella Ronda. The pass connects Gardena (Grödental) Valley with Fassa Valley, which is located in the region of Trentino. On the eastern side, the towers of the Sella Massif and Pordoispitze Peak soar up to the heavens; west of the crossing, you'll find the summits of the Sassolungo (Langkofel) Massif, including Grohmannspitze and Zahnkofel Peaks; Col Rondella is further south and is visible from far away.

Water:	✕
Electricity:	✕
Elevator:	✕
Parking:	✕
Access for	passenger cars, commercial vehicles

© Martin Rattini

© Martin Rattini

© Martin Rattini

© Martin Rattini

© Martin Rattini

© Martin Rattini

© Martin Rattini

© Martin Rattini

© Martin Rattini